THE SPELLING BEE TOOLBOX ${ }^{\text {"w }}$

Introduction

Dictionary.com defines a Spelling Bee as "a spelling competition won by the individual or team spelling the greatest number of words correctly." Of course, that's true, but a spelling bee is so much more!

A spelling bee motivates students to study spelling words. A spelling bee fosters healthy competition. It recognizes excellence in learning. It brings students into a well-defined structure and requires that they follow rules. And, a spelling bee is FUN!

Spelling bees are growing in popularity worldwide, as shown by the emails, comments and questions l've received from parents, teachers and students around the globe. Folks have requested even more tools than already appear on the website, and they've given me ideas for expanding the ones that are there.

As a result, in this book l've brought together the best tools from the website, all in one place, and I've expanded many of them. Plus, l've added those additional tools that site visitors have requested. You'll find more words, more sentences, more award certificates, more tips for teachers, and so much MORE of everything.

This is the second edition of the Spelling Bee Toolbox, revised and expanded, again based on feedback by website visitors and satisfied customers from around the globe. l've added more helpful resources including the FAQs, personnel chart, audience guidelines, additional certificates, worksheets, name tags, words/sentences and Super Challenge words. In all, I've added more than 20 extra pages.

This Spelling Bee Toolbox is truly the one resource you need for your own successful spelling bees!

Thanks for your support of www.spelling-words-well.com. Please keep the comments coming.

THE SPELLING BEE TOOLBOX ${ }^{\text {n }}$  Instructions

In order to gain the maximum benefit from the tools in this eBook, please refer to these instructions for each section of manual.

Guidelines for Three Kinds of Spelling Bees

The set of rules you choose to follow will depend on:

- The setting of your spelling bee
- The number of spellers who are participating
- The number of people involved in conducting the bee
- The time that's available for the bee

I recommend you read through the guidelines for all the types of bees listed here, and then pick and choose the features that will work best for your situation. Once you've decided on the rules you'll use, be certain to make the rules clear to all the students, parents and teachers who will be involved in the activity. Then be sure to follow the rules consistently during the contest.

Organizing a Spelling Bee

Use this checklist to get organized and stay organized. Adjust the list as needed for your situation. If you are responsible for a large bee, please don't ignore this tool!

Personnel Chart

Here's a place to record everyone's name and phone number who is involved in your big bee. You may not need to fill every position, and you may need to add some that are not listed. Once you've filled out this page, make copies for others as needed.

Recorder's Chart

The recorder (or one of the judges) can use this helpful tool to keep track of which spellers are in and out of the competition. It's important to note the round on which each one is eliminated, the misspelled word, and the misspelling in case of disputes later. The first page is numbered for the first twenty students in the first 8 rounds. The second page can be photocopied as needed for subsequent rounds and additional spellers.

Audience Guidelines

Include some or all of these in your printed programs, or ask your emcee to read them at the beginning of any major spelling bee. Don't let unnecessary distractions upset your spellers! Be sure to cover #4 with your judges. Use it only with their agreement.

Family Letter

Use this letter as is, or adapt for your situation. It's essential to communicate early and often with families. You can also adapt this for email and facebook posts.

Press Release

Members of the press won't know about your event unless you tell them! Use this format to formally announce your Bee to local newspapers, radio and television stations. Be sure to include the who, what, where, when info at the very beginning of your press release. Reporters love a good local story, so be sure to include interesting details about your bee that will draw their attention and make them want to promote your event!

Classroom Activities and Partner Game

Use these ideas to help students gain confidence in spelling in front of others and to increase their spelling proficiency. These ideas can be used year-round, even when your students are not participating in a spelling bee.

The Scripps Spelling Bee

This information answers some basic questions about the world's most famous bee. Use the links to learn more.

How to Study for a Spelling Bee

Give students this helpful guide as early as possible. Review the suggestions frequently in class.

Spelling Rules for Upper Grades

This list includes a few of the well-known spelling rules that, hopefully, most upper grade students have mastered. It also contains some of the more obscure ones that may help students spell some tricky words correctly.

Study List

These 100 words are a good sampling of words students might expect to encounter in any spelling bee. Approximately 70 of these words appear in the mega-list of 620 words in this eBook.

Worksheets

Use these formats to make more of your own worksheets using new words. Better yet, ask your students to create the worksheets to share with classmates. The more times students use their spelling words, the more likely they are to remember them.

Frequently Asked Questions

This brief sections covers some key points about the big word lists and study lists for students that I'm often asked. It's definitely worth a few minutes to read this page.

Spelling Bee Words and Sentences

Our list of 620 words was gleaned from a variety of grade-level resources. Many of the words appear in the spelling bee word lists on our website. Be sure to read through the words in advance of any spelling bee to rearrange, add and omit words as you see fit.

Also read through all the sentences prior to your competition. Feel free to use your own sentences for any of the ones here that you feel are not meaningful or appropriate for your students. Sentences are purposely brief. Many sentences give clues to the words' meanings as an aid to the speller. You don't need to use every word on the list. Skip over any words that you think might cause problems.

In general, our words appear from easiest to most difficult. However, this will not always be true for every speller. There are about $205^{\text {th }}$ grade words included near the beginning of the list. There are many words at the $9^{\text {th }}$ grade level and beyond toward the end of the list.

You may start with any word on the list, depending on the level of your students. Here are some general guidelines:
Grade 6 - Start at the beginning
Grade 7 - Start around #150
Grade 8 - Start around #300
During the bee, you may choose to skip large sections of the list in order to get to more difficult words more quickly.

Alphabetical Listing of $\mathbf{6 2 0}$ Spelling Bee Words

This quick reference tool will allow you to compare our word list to your own spelling curriculum and other resources.

Super Challenge List

Use these words to challenge your best spellers or to supplement our list of 620 words during your spelling bee. Throughout the school year, be on the lookout for more superchallenge words to add to this list.

Clip art

Use these images to spruce up your flyers and letters. Here's one way to use our clip art as digital images:

1. Scroll to the page(s) with the image(s) you wish to use.
2. Press the "print screen" button on your keyboard.
3. Open up a new document in "Paint" or other image-editing program of your choice.
4. Insert the image from "print screen" by using Ctl + V or "insert"
5. Crop the image(s) you want. Resize as necessary.
6. In the file menu, click on "Save as." Name the file, save as a .jpg or .png in your documents or picture files in a location you can find later.
7. Open up a word document, then Insert --> Picture --> from file. Go to the saved location of your clip art image.
8. Adjust the image size as necessary as well as its layout properties. Complete your letter, announcement or other document.

Bookmarks

Photocopy these designs on card stock, cut apart and laminate.

Reminders

Use these for students, their families, and even spelling bee officials.

Name Tags

Photocopy enough to have one per student. Write in students' names and grade or other ID information and laminate, if desired. Cut out. Punch holes in upper corners and add string or yarn so that name tags can be hung around students' necks, as shown.

Award Certificates

Choose the awards that best fit the mood of your competition serious, fun, modern, or traditional - in either color or black and white.

You can follow either of these procedures in presenting the awards:

1) Print out the certificates of your choice prior to your spelling bee. After the bee, write in the winners' names and present them immediately or at a later date.
2) After the bee, open the certificates of your choice in a pdf-editing program. Insert the winners' names and print. Present the awards at a later ceremony.

THE SPELLING BEE TOOLBOX ${ }^{\text {m }}$ Classroom Spelldown

This is a great format to use in your classroom in a single class period. The "team spirit" factor helps spellers encourage one another. Misspelled words are spelled again and again until they're corrected, making this a valuable instructional tool.

1. Divide students into two teams.
2. Each team lines up on opposite sides of the room, facing each other.
3. The teacher reads the first word to Player 1 on Team A. She also uses the word in a sentence.
4. Player 1 repeats the word, spells it, and says the word again.
5. If the player is correct, he moves to the end of the line on team A. The teacher gives the next word to the first player on Team B.
6. If the player is incorrect, the player sits down and is out of the spelldown. The teacher gives the same word to player 1 on Team B.
7. Player 1 on Team B repeats the word, spells it, and says the word again.
8. If she is correct, she moves to the end of the line on her team.
9. The Spelldown continues with correct players moving to the end of the line, and incorrect players leaving the competition. Eventually, the students who have spelled correctly will move to the front of the line to spell again and again. At some point, one team will have only one speller. That student must spell every time it's his team's turn.
10. The spelldown ends when one team has lost all its spellers. The winning team is the one with the last speller(s) standing.

Variation:
If the same word is misspelled by two (or choose a different number) players, both players remain in the spelldown. The teacher writes the correct spelling of the missed word on the board and gives those players a new word to spell.

THE SPELLING BEE TOOLBOX ${ }^{\text {n }}$ Classroom Spelfing Bee

This individual competition is slightly more competitive than the spelldown, but not as rigid as the formal spelling bee, outlined below.

1. Determine the order in which students will spell. Arrange spellers in that order in their seats or in an open area of the classroom.
2. The teacher announces the word to be spelled. He speaks slowly and clearly, without distorting the normal pronunciation of the word. He uses the word in a sentence and says the word again.
3. The speller listens carefully to the teacher and asks for the word to be repeated if necessary.
4. When the speller is sure she understands the word, she pronounces it, spells it and then says the word again.
5. The teacher determines whether or not the word was spelled correctly.
6. If the correct spelling was given, the speller remains in the bee.
7. If the spelling was incorrect, that speller is eliminated from the bee. The teacher gives the correct spelling of that word. Then the teacher reads a new word to the next student.
8. The bee continues until all but two spellers have been eliminated. When there are only two spellers left, if one player misspells a word, the other player must spell that word correctly, plus one more word to be declared the winner of the spelling bee.

THE SPELLING BEE TOOLBOX ${ }^{\mathrm{mm}}$  All-School(or Large) Spelfing Bee

For this type of spelling bee, you'll need several officials: a pronouncer, at least one judge, a recorder and, optionally, a timekeeper. See list on page 14.

The spelling bee coordinator should select officials for these positions who speak clearly, listen carefully and who will follow the guidelines you present to them.

Advance preparation by the spelling bee officials:

Judges

Read the rules and the word list. Select and secure a large dictionary to use on the day of the bee. Designate one person as the head judge who will make the final decisions on the correct or incorrect spelling of a word.

Pronouncer

Read through the word list in advance. Look up the correct pronunciation of any unfamiliar words in a dictionary. Learn the rules for the bee.

Recorder

Read the rules and word list in advance. Review the recorder's chart.
Timekeeper-Optional (See rule 4B)
During the bee, the timekeeper uses a stopwatch to keep track of the amount of time the speller uses to complete the spelling of each word. The time limit must be decided in advance and announced to all participants. A limit of $30-60$ seconds is recommended, depending on the age of the students, the difficulty of the words, and the available time for the bee.

Spelling bee coordinator

Be sure to meet with the spelling bee officials prior to the bee to make sure all the rules and procedures are clear.

Immediately before the bee begins:

(For a more complete checklist, see page 12.)

1. Decide the order in which the students will participate. Seat them in order on stage, or at the front of the room.
2. Arrange a table for the judges and recorder.
3. Be sure all members of the audience are seated and quiet.

To conduct the bee, the head judge reads the rules and procedures aloud to the spellers and audience. He asks the spellers if they have any questions about the rules.

Rules:

1. The first speller goes to the microphone.
2. The pronouncer announces the word to be spelled. He speaks slowly and clearly, without distorting the normal pronunciation of the word. He uses the word in a sentence and says the word again.
3. The speller listens carefully to the pronouncer and asks for the word to be repeated if necessary.
4. When the speller is sure she understands the word, she pronounces it, spells it and then says the word again. She must say it loudly enough for the judge(s) to hear it.

Optional additions to this rule:
A. Once a speller has started spelling the word, she may start over as long as she has not finished spelling the word and repeated it. OR
Once a speller has started to spell the word, she may not start over.
B. Spellers will have a time limit of $\qquad$ seconds in which to complete the spelling of the word, from the time she indicates to the pronouncer that she understands the word she is to spell.
5. The judge(s) determines whether or not the word was spelled correctly.
6. If the correct spelling was given, the speller remains in the bee and goes back to her seat.
7. If the spelling was incorrect, that speller is eliminated from bee. The speller leaves the stage at the end of the round, i.e. after each speller has taken one turn. (Optional variations: The speller leaves the stage immediately.)
8. If the word was misspelled, the judge gives the correct spelling of that word. Then the pronouncer reads a new word to the next student.
9. This process continues with correct spellers staying in the competition and incorrect spellers being eliminated.
10. When there are only two spellers left, if one player misspells a word, the other player must spell that word correctly, plus one more word to be declared the winner of the spelling bee.

THE SPELLING BEE TOOLBOX ${ }^{\text {m }}$ Organizational Checßlist

Use this checklist to plan a school-wide or district-wide spelling bee. Check off each task as it is completed.

6-12 months in advance

- Form a group of 3-4 people to help organize the spelling bee.
$\square$ Decide what schools, grades or ages will compete in your spelling bee.
- Set the date.
- Reserve the facilities you will need.
$\square$ Notify teachers, students, parents, and administrators of the date of the bee and the eligibility requirements.
$\square$ Discuss the funds that will be needed for the event. Learn what resources are already available and how much more money you may need to raise.
$\square$ Contact local businesses, if necessary, to help fund your event.

3-6 months in advance

- Decide what word lists you will use. Let spellers know in advance. We recommend the list of 620 words in this book. But you may decide to make your own list based on your own spelling curriculum. The Scripps National Spelling Bee uses Webster's Third New International Dictionary and its Addenda Section (copyright 2002 by Merriam-Webster), which means those spellers must be ready for anything! Whatever you decide, be sure that students have at least some of the words in advance and/or know what dictionary you'll be using.
$\square$ Choose your Spelling Bee pronouncer, judges, record keeper, and timekeeper, if needed. Double-check their availability for your date.
- Double-check on the availability of your facility.
$\square$ If your bee will be held at a location other than your own school, arrange to have someone attend your event that is familiar with the building. Be sure you have someone to run the sound system.
$\square$ Decide on the spelling bee rules you will use. (See page 11 for our suggestions.) Send written copies to students, parents, teachers, and all bee officials.
$\square$ Decide if you want to serve refreshments and if so, what type of foods and beverages you want to include. Then find a very responsible person to be in charge of that portion of the event.

1-2 months in advance

- Decide on prizes. Choose award certificates included in this book, or order medals and trophies from local vendors or online sources. (Allow at least 6 weeks for special orders.)
- Check back with all participants frequently. One month before the spelling bee, send a note to all classrooms and bee officials reminding them of the date. Tell them what time they should arrive at the competition.
- Get a list of the names of all students who expect to participate.
- Notify local newspapers, radio stations, and TV stations to let them know about the spelling bee. See the Sample Press Release on page 19.
- Invite sponsors to attend.

1-2 weeks in advance

- Announce the bee on your Face Book page and other social media.
- If you're using a stage, be sure you have chairs, a podium, microphones, and tables for the judges.
- Make name tags for all participants and officials.
- Print out word lists for the pronouncers and judges. Print the recorder's chart (pages 15-16) for the record keeper. Gather dictionaries, pencils, and a stopwatch.
- Contact media personnel again and encourage them to cover your big event.

The day of the Spelling Bee

Arrive 2 hours early with your word lists, dictionaries, recorder's charts, pencils, awards and name tags.
$\square$ Check the sound system and seating.
$\square$ Welcome your spellers, staff and audience.
$\square$ Publicly thank sponsors, spellers, teachers, parents, staff and media.
$\square$ Enjoy the bee!

After the Spelling Bee

$\square$ Clean up the facility, if necessary.
$\square$ Announce the spelling bee winners in public forums.
$\square$ Send a thank you note to everyone who helped with the bee.
$\square$ Recover and start planning for next year!

THE SPELLING BEE TOOLBOX ${ }^{\text {™ }}$ Audience Guidelines

Thank you for attending our spelling bee. Your support means so much to our spellers! In order to help them concentrate and perform at their very best, please observe these guidelines:

1. During each round, remain quiet and in your seat.
2. If you must leave your seat, please wait until the end of a round to leave the room. Also wait until the end of a round to reenter the room.
3. Do not spell any word aloud. Do not even whisper it to yourself or to your neighbor.
4. Do not argue with the judges. Their decisions are final. If you feel strongly that a mistake was made, please write down what you observed.

At the end of that round, ask the judges for a moment of their time. It is their option to receive your comment or not, and to act upon it, or not. Again, their decisions are final.
5. Hold your applause until the end of the spelling bee, as instructed by the spelling bee officials.

It's Spelling Bee Time!

Dear Families,

A very important event involving your student is coming up! Please mark this information on your calendar now.

The $\qquad$ Spelling Bee

Date:
Time:
Location:
Here are several ways you can help your student prepare for the Bee:

1) Help your student study spelling words frequently. Ask him/her to spell them aloud. You can study word lists that I will be sending home, words from other textbooks, words from the newspaper and unfamiliar words from the dictionary.
2) On the week of the Spelling Bee, and especially the night before the Bee, make sure your student gets plenty of rest and proper nutrition.
3) If at all possible, plan to attend the Bee. If you are unable to attend, please try to arrange for another family member or friend to be there. Your presence will be a huge encouragement to all of our students.

If I can be of further assistance, please contact me at: $\qquad$
Thank you in advance for your support!
Sincerely,

Wilson Middle School123 Scholarly DriveLansing, MI 49ZIP(123) 456-7890

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

$10^{\text {th }}$ Annual Wilson Middle School Spelling Bee - November 9

Lansing, MI - On Tuesday, November 9, at 10 A.M, the Wilson Middle School will hold its tenth annual spelling bee competition in the school's auditorium. Admission is free and open to the public.

Twenty-four students from grades 6, 7, and 8 will compete for the title of school champion. The champion will represent the school next month in the Ingham County Spelling Bee.

Mayor Sue Jones will be on hand to present the trophy to this year's winner. The winner will also receive a $$ 100$ U.S. Savings Bond, compliments of Acme Services, this year's sponsor.

School principal, Ms. Sondra Smith, notes that two past winners of Wilson Middle Spelling Bee have gone on to compete at the state and national levels. She urges the public to attend the event and encourage the hard-working students.

Each participant has already competed at his/her own grade level and finished among the top 8 in his/her class. During the all-school competition, participants will be asked to spell words from lists they have not previewed. It should prove to be a challenging competition for all students.

For more information about the Wilson Middle School Spelling Bee, please contact John Doe at 123.456.7890.987 or j.doe@email.address.

THE SPELLING BEE TOOLBOX ${ }^{\mathrm{Tm}}$  Classroom Activities

You can help your students prepare for spelling bees all year long. Their success in spelling bees will depend on two factors:
A) Spelling proficiency
B) Confidence with spelling aloud in front of others

To help students gain proficiency in their spelling skills:

1) Challenge students each week with a few tough words. Write the words on the board at the beginning of each week and discuss their meanings. Include these difficult words on the weekly spelling quiz and in other written assignments. Use words from the list of spelling bee words at the end of this book, from word lists at www.spelling-wordswell.com and/or from the dictionary.
2) Ask students to contribute the challenge words. Assign a different pair of students each week to find 5 difficult words. At the beginning of each week, the pair can do a brief oral presentation in which they write the words on the board and explain their meaning.
3) Review common spelling rules with students. See pages 27-28.
4) Give students extra written practice with difficult words. Reading and writing are essential experiences, especially for visual learners.
5) Frequently review commonly misspelled words such as separate, occasionally, achieve, and definitely.

To help students gain confidence in spelling aloud:

1) Conduct frequent, brief oral quizzes. At the beginning or end of a class period, use just a minute or two for "popcorn" quizzes. Randomly call out a student's name and a spelling word. For example, say "Rachel, organize." Rachel pops up and spells organize. If she's incorrect, call on the student seated behind her, "Ali, organize.," and so on. This not only gives frequent practice, it motivates students to study the weekly spelling words.
2) Ask students to do oral reading, oral math, or any kind of oral presentation from their seats and especially in front of the class.

For a fun change, try the partner game on the next two pages. It can be played over and over with new words every time!

Can You Spell It?

Players must pay close attention to the letter diagram as they try to spell words in this challenging game. Use a new board every time for maximum usefulness!

Object of the game: Correctly locate and spell the most words
Supplies: Game board, list of spelling words, paper and pencil, 15 blank index cards

Preparation: Write one spelling word on each index card. Shuffle the word cards and place them face down on the table. Write a letter in each space in the game board. (Use letters that are in the set of spelling words.) Each player numbers his paper from 1 to 15 and makes two columns on his paper. He writes YES at the top of one column and NO at the top of the other.

To Play:

1. The first player draws a word card and reads it aloud.
2. Both players look carefully at the game board. Each one silently decides if the word can be spelled by moving from letter to letter following the lines on the board.
3. Each player writes the spelling word under the correct column on his paper. He writes the word under YES if he can spell it, and under NO if he cannot. See example below.
4. The second player draws a word card and reads it aloud. Play continues until all the cards have been drawn.
5. At the end of the game, players compare their answers. They check to be sure the other player has spelled each word correctly on his/her paper, and that he/she has placed it in the correct column. If players answers differ, they work together to find the right answer.
6. The winner of the game is the player with the most answers spelled correctly and placed under the correct column.

Example:

|  | Yes | No |
| :--- | :--- | :--- |
| 1. | two |  |
| 2. |  | whisper |
| 3. |  | whom |
| 4. | weigh |  |

The Scripps Spelfing Bee

No spelling bee resource would be complete without mentioning the Scripps Spelling Bee, the oldest national spelling competition in the United States. It began in 1925 and is run as a not-for-profit competition by the E.W. Scripps Company. It is the "bee of all spelling bees" with final rounds aired on television stations around the world.

Eligibility

In order to be eligible to compete in the Scripps National Spelling Bee, students must attend a school that is enrolled in the Scripps program. (See Scripps FAQs for rules regarding homeschooled students.) Students must be under the age of 16 and in grades 8 or below.

Schools must follow certain rules and pay an enrollment fee to participate in Scripps. Local businesses (often newspapers) pay the fee and become sponsors of the bee. Schools must enroll with the national office from mid-August through mid-October.

Participating schools are located in the U.S., Canada, Puerto Rico, New Zealand, South Korea, U.S. Department of Defense schools in Europe, and several other locations.

The Process

While different regions follow different plans, usually schools hold several small competitions. For example, each classroom might hold its own bee. Then the winners from each classroom might compete against each other in school wide spelling bee. Next, the winners from several schools in the same city or county might compete against each other. Regional and statewide competitions may also follow.

Normally, champions compete at several levels before moving on to the finals which are held at the Grand Hyatt Hotel in Washington, D.C. The finals are always held during the week following Memorial Day.

Preparation

Students who are serious about competing in the Scripps competition study all year long, for hours every day. Students in enrolled schools can receive lists of words to study from Scripps. Merriam-Webster also provides study helps. In addition to learning the spellings of words, it is also very helpful students to learn definitions, pronunciations, parts of speech and etymologies of words.

Many champion students study straight from the Third New International Dictionary of the English Language, the official dictionary used by Scripps. They also read good books to learn new words. They often keep a special list of their own interesting words to memorize.

Prizes

The champion of the annual Scripps National Spelling Bee receives:

- $30,000 cash
- a huge engraved trophy called a loving cup
- reference books from Merriam-Webster and Encylopaedia Britannica
- other monetary prizes.

All spellers who make it to the finals receive prizes, based on the number of rounds they successfully complete.

Students who participate in any of the spelling bees are rewarded with the experience of being part of a fun, educational competition. They also enjoy the benefits of learning new words and expanding their vocabularies.

THE SPELLING BEE TOOLBOX ${ }^{\text {n }}$  How to Study for a Spelling Bee

In a weekly spelling quiz, you know exactly which words you'll be asked to spell. But in a spelling bee, you could be asked to spell just about anything! So what's the best way to prepare to spell well at your next competition?

There are several strategies you should use. Some are long-term practices, and others can be used at the last minute to boost your skills.

Long term - What you should do all year long

1. Maintain a spelling notebook. This can be a pocket-sized tablet or a large spiral-bound pad. Write down words that are tricky for you - words you've misspelled on spelling quizzes or writing assignments. Also write down words you encounter that you don't know how to spell very well. Review the words in your notebook frequently.
2. Read a lot to expand your vocabulary. Your reading should include good books and the newspaper. You'll learn new words and how to use them. Add the most interesting words and the ones with the trickiest spellings in your spelling notebook.
3. Be sure to master the spelling words you're given in language class each week, as well as vocabulary words from science, social studies and math classes.
4. Practice difficult words over and over. Write them on paper, and type them into a text document. This repetition helps you see and spell and cement the words in your memory.
5. Discover your best "on stage" spelling bee method. Think about how you prepare to spell a word aloud. Are you most successful if you

- trace it with your finger
- say it to yourself
- or picture it in your mind?

Figure this out in advance. Then once a week, have a friend or family member ask you to spell a few words aloud, spelling bee style. Get comfortable with spelling tricky words in front of other people.
6. Learn basic spelling strategies and rules. (See page 27.) In your notebook, make a list of commonly-used words that are exceptions to these rules.
7. If you're really serious about advancing to regional, state or national competitions, you need to get a good dictionary and study it. Webster's New International Dictionary of the English Language, Unabridged is the largest dictionary of the English language, with over 450,000 entries. It's the one used by the Scripps' National Spelling Bee, making it the perfect one to study for advanced spelling bee competitions.
8. Talk to other students who have done well in spelling bees. Talk to older students, your brothers or sisters, or classmates who have done well. What tips worked for them? You can also read books about successful spellers, including How to Spell Like a Champ by Trinkle, Andrews and Kimble.

Short term - What you can do weeks or days before the spelling bee

1. Ask your teacher for specific list of words you can study. Then study! See the word lists at www.spelling-wordswell.com if you need more words to study.
2. Practice spelling a lot of words aloud with a friend or family member.
3. Post spelling words everywhere: the bathroom mirror, your computer desktop, your school desk or locker. Carry a list of words you want to learn in your pocket. Pull out the list and study it when you have spare minutes between other activities.
4. Ask someone to quiz you on words that you haven't studied before. A good place to find words is on the front page of a newspaper.
5. Review the tips in the long-term list above and work on them as much as possible.
6. The night before the spelling bee, get plenty of rest. Eat a good breakfast in the morning. Include some protein, such as eggs, cheese or peanut butter.
7. Most importantly, believe you can do it! Your preparation will give you confidence to think clearly and spell correctly, despite the butterflies in your stomach.

THE SPELLING BEE TOOLBOX ${ }^{\mathrm{mm}}$ Spelling Rules for Upper Grades

By now you probably know the basic spelling rules, such as when to change a final $y$ to $i$ when forming plurals and whether or not to double consonants when adding suffixes. It's a good idea to review those rules prior to any competition, and also to review words that are exceptions to those rules.

There are also some lesser-used rules that are worth reviewing. These rules may help you figure out how to spell unfamiliar words that you may encounter in a spelling bee. We'll take a look at 12 rules (of both types) here.

1. Compound Words

Keep both words whole. Don't drop the last letter of the first word or the first letter of the last word. Examples: roommate, bookkeeper, sidewalk, withhold.
2. Words spelled with ie or ei

Use $i$ before e except after $c$ or when sounded like $a$ as in neighbor and weigh.
Examples: friend, believe, ceiling, receive, eight, vein Note: There are many exceptions to this rule, including: neither, science, their, weird, ancient, height, protein, sufficient and more. These words need to be memorized.

Forming Plurals

3. Words that end in $y$
A) If a noun ends in a consonant followed by a $y$, change the $y$ to $i$ and add es. Examples: candies, stories
B) If a noun ends in a vowel followed by a $y$, add $s$.

Examples: chimneys, turkeys
4. Words that end in $f$ or $f e$

Most nouns ending in $f$ or $f e$ form the plural by changing the $f$ or $f e$ to $v$ and adding -es.
For a double $f$, just add $s$. Examples: calves, wives, knives, bluffs, cliffs, hooves.
Exception: roofs
5. Making plurals from words that end in o
A) If a vowel comes before the final o, add s. Examples: radios, studios
B) If a consonant comes before the final o, usually add es. Examples: potatoes, echoes

The plural forms of mosquito and tornado can be spelled either way.
Interesting note: The plural of most words related to music that end in o are formed by adding $s$ only. Examples: solos, pianos

Adding Prefixes

6. When adding prefixes such as dis- mis-, pre- re-, un, the spelling of the base word does not change.
Examples: disability, misspell, preamble, react, unusual.

Adding Suffixes

7. Words that end in $e$
A) Drop the $e$ when the suffix begins with a vowel. (-ed, -ing, -ous, -able, $-y$ )

Examples: closed, housing, nervous, adorable, lousy
Exceptions: noticeable, courageous
A few words can be spelled either way: loveable or lovable, movable or moveable.
B) Keep the silent e when the suffix begins with a consonant (-ment, -ful, -ly)

Example: careful, movement
Exceptions: ninth, truly
Judgment and acknowledgment are preferred spellings; however, judgement and acknowledgement are accepted.
8. Doubling the final consonant

If a one-syllable word ends with a vowel followed by a consonant, double the consonant before adding the suffix. Examples: stopping, bedding, dipper

Note that words like read become reading because there are two vowels before the final consonant. Words like helping have one $p$ because they end in two consonants.
9. Adding -less

When adding -less, the base word does not usually change. Examples: hopeless, clueless.
10. Adding -ful

The suffix -ful never has two Is. When -ful is added to a word, the spelling of the base word usually does not change. Examples: soulful, cheerful, careful.
11. Adding -able and -ible
A) If the base word is whole, the suffix is usually spelled -able. The silent $e$ is dropped before adding this suffix. Examples: breakable, acceptable, lovable, believable
B) If the base word is incomplete or is a root, the suffix is usually spelled -ible. Examples: divisible, possible, terrible.
12. Words that end in $c$

When $c$ is the last letter of a word, it is always hard. When adding the suffixes -er,-ing, or $-y$, first add a $k$ to keep the hard $c$ sound. Examples: picnicker, panicky, trafficking.

THE SPELLING BEE TOOLBOX ${ }^{\text {m" }}$

Frequently Asked Questions

Question: Why are there easy words at the beginning of the big list of words and sentences in the Toolbox?

Answer: There are easy words so that all of your students may enjoy participating in a spelling bee! The Toolbox is designed for general school and community use, with the idea that as many students as possible will want to be included. Many times, most students can succeed through at least the first round and feel successful.

As explained in the directions, please feel free to skip over any words that are way too easy, or are otherwise unsuitable for your purposes. l've included a huge list of words so you should still have plenty!

Question: Should students be given the entire list of words to study before the bee?
Answer: This depends on your philosophy and preference. Some educators feel that it is most fair when all students are given the exact words to study in advance. It "levels the playing field."

Others believe that this method only rewards those who can memorize the best, rather than those who can actually spell the best. By not giving students the entire list, the bee will reward students who can think on their feet, who have large spelling vocabularies, and who have studied on their own.

My recommendation is to use the 100 -word study list provided in the Toolbox. About 70 of these words are in the actual big list. This gives students a taste of what to expect in the bee. Encourage students to study difficult words on their own, as well as to follow other tips included in this eBook.

Question: When conducting the spelling bee, should I use the words in the order they appear in the list of words and sentences, or mix them up randomly?

Answer: I strongly encourage you to use them in the order the appear. That's because the words are, generally speaking, arranged from easiest to most difficult. It makes sense to have the easiest words at the beginning of the bee. As spellers are eliminated, the remaining spellers should be given tougher and tougher words.

For example, it wouldn't be good for a speller to given boulevard in the first round, misspell it and be eliminated, then for another speller to be given the word under in the sixth round and advance. (Please note that you may want to rearrange a few words since difficulty is always somewhat subjective and can vary by curriculum, etc.)

If you are giving students all the words to study in advance, use the alphabetical list of words, rather than the list of words and sentences.
